Yiti Beach Muscat

23.5320916, 58.6815759

Located around 28 kms from the city centre Muscat, Yiti Beach is one of the secluded and lesser known beaches in Oman. It is well-known as a camping site outside the city of Muscat with small cliffs, coves, rocky edges, and a fairly isolated environment that’s ideal for parties or couples who’d enjoy their privacy. The beach has gorgeous soft sand and clear waters with fishing, swimming, camping, and simple day-trip picnic opportunities available.

Admittedly off the beaten track, Yitti Beach is a wonderful, lesser-known beach to explore in Oman. There’s also a fishing village nearby where one can interact with the locals and rent a boat. At sunset, Yiti Beach is ideal for long walks to watch the sun go down at the horizon in an array of red and orange colors. Sunrises at the beach are equally beautiful. Yiti Beach doesn’t have many facilities, but it remains attractive for its rustic charm.
